Elder Citizens Council conducts EMS and TENS Therapy for seniors

Mysuru, Nov. 21 (KS) - The Elder Citizens Council and Trust, in collaboration with Companio, Bengaluru, has organised a free EMS (Electrical Muscle Stimulation) and TENS (Transcutaneous Electrical Nerve Stimulation) Therapy exercise for senior citizens at Saraswathi Samudaya Bhavan in Jayalakshmipuram.

The camp, which was inaugurated by Gowdappa, Trust Chairman, on Nov. 15, will go on till Nov. 27. Senior citizens can make use of the camp between 10.30 am and 5.30 pm.

EMS involves sending electrical impulses through the skin. This stimulation may help in repairing the tissue and strengthening the muscles.

TENS uses low-voltage electrical currents to relieve pain. A TENS unit is a small device that delivers the current at or near your nerves to block or change your perception of pain.

These therapies provide relief from arthritis, varicose vein, muscle pain, muscle cramps, swelling, sciatica problem, cervical spondylitis, back pain etc.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

BEAR SETS EXAMPLE: Lord Rama has vanquished the demon Ravana and Hanuman takes the message of Rama's victory to Sita. Sita is overjoyed and wishes that she could give Hanuman a gift. Hanuman then tells Sita that he wants to kill the demon women who have been tormenting Her. Sita says that Hanuman should not harbour ill-will against them, said V.S. Karunakaracharier, in a discourse. They were only doing their duty. Ravana had wanted them to threaten Sita into changing Her mind. How could they refuse to do what their master wanted them to do for, after all, they were the servants of Ravana? Sita refuses to blame them for their conduct and says She was destined to suffer for a certain period of time. A virtuous person will be kind even towards those who err for, after all, whose conduct is without blemish? She then narrates the story of a bear and a tiger.

A man was chased by a tiger and he clambered up a tree. That tree happened to be the dwelling place of a bear. The tiger then said to the bear, "Push the man down. You must never trust human beings." But the bear said that the man had sought refuge in its tree and it would not harm him. The bear then told the man to sleep. When he woke up, it was the bear's turn to sleep. Now the tiger said to the man, "Push the bear down. I will spare your life." The man promptly pushed the bear down. The tiger then pointed out to the bear how untrustworthy the man was. It now urged the bear to go up the tree and push the man down in revenge. The bear went up the tree, but refused to do as the tiger wanted it to. The bear said that even though the man had betrayed it, it would not push him down. Thus, the bear, through its conduct, showed that goodness lay in forgiving people who had done wrong. Revenge is always undesirable. — In The Hindu

Company to let employees scold Bosses!

New York: A company in the United States is providing employees to anonymously "scold" their bosses, alleviating the fear of repercussions for speaking out.

Founded by stand-up comedian and actor Calimar White, who boasts nearly 280,000 Instagram followers, OCDA (Operating as a non-profit) has resonated with workers hesitant to express grievances, South China Morning Post said.

The company's mission is to acknowledge complaints, cultivate a culture of responsiveness and promote respect in the workplace. OCDA gained significant traction after a TikTok influencer shared a video highlighting its anonymous complaint-resolution service.

After each session, OCDA uploads the unedited "scolding" videos to its YouTube channel, which has garnered over 80,000 subscribers.

Lokayukta Police raid four officials

▶ Houses of CNNL MD (Surface Water Data Centre) and Senior Geologist in Mysuru searched for assets, cash

▶ Second raid in 10 days; 25 locations targeted in Mysuru, Bengaluru, Mandya, Mangaluru and Chikkaballapur

Mysuru, Nov. 21 (RK&KS)- As part of a State-wide operation targeting officials accused of corruption and amassing assets beyond their known sources of income, the Lokayukta Police conducted early morning raids today on the properties in Mysuru city linked to a Senior Geologist and the Managing Director (MD) of Cauvery Neeravari Nigama Limited's (CNNL) Surface Water Data Centre, headquartered in Bengaluru.

The Chikkaballapur Lokayukta team searched the house of Senior Geologist Krishnaveni in Gokulam 3rd Stage and an under-construction house in Vijayanagar, Mysuru. Krishnaveni is currently serving in Mangaluru.

The Lokayukta sleuths also simultaneously raided her properties in Mangaluru and Bengaluru. Lokayukta officers reportedly seized documents, which are now under scrutiny.

The house of CNNL Managing Director (Surface Water Data Centre) Mahesh at Vijayanagar 1st Stage in Mysuru, which was raided by Lokayukta Police early this morning.

Krishnaveni previously worked with the Mines and Geology Department in Mysuru.

In a parallel operation, the Mandya Lokayukta team targeted CNNL MD Mahesh, raiding his residence in Vijayanagar 1st Stage and his office in Gokulam, Mysuru. Raids also extended to Mahesh's properties in Bandisiddegowda Layout, Mandya. This is the second time Lokayukta Police have raided Mahesh, who earlier served as the Superintending Engineer (SE) at Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA).

Lokayukta sleuths were still verifying documents, assets, cash and other valuables found at the residences and offices of Krishnaveni and Mahesh when we went to the Press.

Today's operation covered over 25 locations across Bengaluru, Mandya, Mysuru, Mangaluru and Chikkaballapur. Besides Krishnaveni and Mahesh, Lokayukta also raided properties linked to N.K. Thippeswamy, Director of Town and Country Planning, Bengaluru and K. Mohan, Excise Superintendent at the office of the Joint Commissioner of Excise, Bengaluru.

This is the second significant Lokayukta operation in 10 days. On Nov. 12, similar raids on eight Government officials unearthed disproportionate assets worth Rs. 22.5 crore. Today's raids underscore the anti-corruption watchdog's commitment to exposing illicit wealth and holding public officials accountable.

MUDA 50:50 sites scam

Original owner of Kesare land J. Devaraju moves High Court

Bengaluru, Nov. 21 (BCT)- In a significant development in the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) alternative sites allotment case involving Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's family, J. Devaraju, the original owner of the 3.16-acre land on Survey No. 464 in Kesare, Mysuru, has approached the Karnataka High Court.

J. Devaraju

He has challenged a Single Judge's order that upheld the Karnataka Governor's sanction to probe the complaint against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah.

> "The High Court hearing on a petition moved by J. Devaraju on Wednesday challenging the Single Judge's order on Governor's sanction has posted the case for Saturday, Nov. 23. On the same day, the appeal filed by CM Siddaramaiah against the Judge's verdict is also scheduled for hearing."

Twenty years ago, in 2004, Devaraju had sold the land to Siddaramaiah's brother-in-law, B.M. Mallikarjunaswamy, after getting the land de-notified from MUDA. Mallikarjunaswamy later gifted the land to his sister, B.M. Parvathi (the Chief Minister's wife).

MUDA allotted 14 sites of various dimensions in the upscale Vijayanagar 3rd and 4th Stages to Parvathi, as it had acquired the 3.16-acre land at Kesare for Devanur Layout without following due land acquisition processes. This allotment sparked controversy, a political slugfest and the ongoing legal battle.

The rally was organised under the leadership of Dr. Raviprakash, President of the Federation of Historic Vehicles of India (FHVI).

The participants, who enjoyed Mysuru's rich cultural backdrop, are scheduled to return to Bengaluru today, marking the conclusion of the historic drive.

State committed to Muslim welfare: Minister

Muslim community more disadvantaged than Dalit community, says Dr. Mahadevappa

District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa and MLA Tanveer Sait watering the plant to inaugurate the birth anniversary of Maulana Abul Kalam Azad at Jaganmohan Palace auditorium in city on Tuesday as MLA K. Harishgowda, MLC Dr. Yathindra Siddaramaiah and others look on.

Mysuru, Nov. 21 (MTY&BCT)- Mysuru District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa reaffirmed the State Government's commitment to providing reservation facilities aimed at uplifting the Muslim community, which remains underprivileged in various sectors, including education.

He was speaking at the National Education Day (Nov. 11) to mark the birth anniversary of Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the first Education Minister of independent India and Kannada Rajyotsava event organised by the Mysuru District Unit of the State Government Muslim Employees Welfare Association at Jaganmohan Palace auditorium in the city on Tuesday.

Dr. Mahadevappa stated that the Muslim community is more socio-economically disadvantaged than even the Dalit community. He emphasised that reservations for Muslims are essential and Constitutionally viable, adding that the Government is earnestly working towards implementing them.

Acknowledging the lack of Constitutional provisions for religion-based reservations, he pointed out that a 10 percent reservation for Economically Weaker Sections (EWS) was introduced despite similar constraints.

Questioning the denial of reservations for the Muslim community, he highlighted that the Constitution's preamble upholds equality for all. However, he lamented that divisive elements are misusing religion to fragment the Muslim community.

He stressed that no religion advocates wrongdoing, yet some individuals exploit religious sentiments for personal gain, which goes against Constitutional principles.

Dr. Mahadevappa, referring to the Sachar Committee Report, revealed that 75 percent of Muslims had not studied beyond SSLC.

MLC Dr. Yathindra Siddaramaiah claimed that Dr. B.R. Ambedkar had warned against transforming India into a Hindu nation, stating that such a shift would be perilous. He called for communal harmony, urging the nation to uphold its inclusive ethos by treating all communities equally.

He assured that the Government will address the needs of minority community. The six key demands have been presented to the Government, which will be taken up in a phased manner.

Chamaraja MLA K. Harishgowda, Association President Mohammad Saleem Hanchinamani, Addl. Commissioner of Commercial Taxes Mirza Ajmatullah, writer Prof. S. Masood Siraj, Asst. Prof. Hakeem Teerthahalli, Mysuru City Corporation Commissioner Ashaad-Ur-Rahman Shariff, social worker Najma Nazir Chikkanerale, Association members Afsar Pasha, Syed Muddasir, Rehman Sharif, Syed Nasir Ahmed and Aziz Khan were present.

MLA Tanveer Sait seeks special schemes for community children

Mysuru, Nov. 21 (MTY&BCT)- Narasimharaja MLA Tanveer Sait has urged the State Government to introduce special schemes for the Muslim community across various sectors, particularly education, to offset the neglect shown by the Central Government towards minorities.

Speaking at the National Education Day at Jaganmohan Palace auditorium Tuesday, Sait highlighted the challenges faced by minority students. He noted that over 1.5 million minority students previously benefited from scholarships, but the Central Government's recent withdrawal of these benefits has caused significant hardships.

He stressed the importance of State-initiated special programmes for the minority community in all sectors, particularly education, to help students excel in competitive exams like IAS and KAS.

Sait also criticised the Centre for suspending reservations for minorities, Dalits and backward classes, accusing it of shirking its responsibilities. He appealed to the State Government to step in and provide scholarships to ensure equal opportunities.

Advocates for learning Kannada

Sait emphasised that Muslims in Karnataka should prioritise learning Kannada, asserting that it poses no threat to the community. "Kannada is the language of our State, and administration can only function effectively when we learn to read, write and communicate in it. While Urdu is a valuable language, it should not dominate the community's identity," he said.

Acknowledging the Supreme Court's stance on the freedom of parents to choose schools and mediums of instruction, Sait urged the community to balance this choice wisely. He expressed concern over the economic struggles of Muslim families, where children often work at an early age to support their households.

He described the dire living conditions of such families as 'heart-breaking' and called for immediate interventions to keep children in school.

The 50 percent of the Muslim community in Karnataka resides in rural areas, yet less than 3 percent own agricultural land. He highlighted the lack of access to Government benefits in the agricultural sector, urging the State to support Muslim farmers with resources and farming machinery.

He called for actionable plans based on existing Government reports on the socio-economic conditions of the community to bridge the gap.

Senior Supreme Court advocate Dushyant Dave, appearing for Devaraju in the High Court yesterday, mentioned the appeal before a Division Bench comprising Chief Justice N.V. Anjaria and Justice K.V. Aravind, while requesting the Bench for an urgent hearing on it.

Dave argued that the appellant (79-year-old Devaraju) was aggrieved by the Single Judge Bench order (by Justice M. Nagaprasanna) in the petition filed by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah.

The petition challenged the Governor's approval for an investigation into Siddaramaiah's involvement in the MUDA alternative site allotment case. The advocate stated that the remarks by the Single Judge Bench against Devaraju were made without hearing him.

Dave further submitted that certain adverse observations had been made against Devaraju, although he was not a party to Siddaramaiah's petition. These remarks, Dave contended, have led to Devaraju facing criminal prosecution, carrying severe civil and criminal liabilities.

Highlighting Devaraju's position as a small landholder, Dave requested the Bench to hear the matter separately, emphasising that his client did not wish to be entangled in a political controversy. The Bench stated that the matter would be taken up on Nov. 23, provided the office objections are resolved by then.

About Dushyant Dave

Dushyant Dave, a Senior Advocate with over four decades of legal practice, has made significant contributions to the legal fraternity. He served as a Member of the National Legal Services Authority from 2004 to 2008 and has been on the boards of leading international arbitration associations.

A three-term President of the Supreme Court Bar Association, Dave is renowned for defending public causes both within courtrooms and in public discourse. He is also a prolific writer, contributing insightful Op-Eds to leading newspapers and magazines on national, legal, and constitutional issues.

Hootagalli CMC Bill Collector trapped while accepting bribe

Mysuru, Nov. 21 (RK&KS) - Mysuru Lokayukta Police yesterday trapped the Bill Collector of Hootagalli City Municipal Council (CMC) while he was accepting a bribe to fix the revenue and to provide Form - 3 to a GPA holder.

The Bill Collector, who was caught red handed is Dinesh. He was trapped in front of Hootagalli CMC when he was accepting the bribe from GPA holder Chethan of Mandya.

Two years ago, Chethan had submitted an application for fixation of revenue and to provide Form - 3 to the property of one Bhyrappa, for which he was the GPA holder. Dinesh had demanded a bribe of Rs. 2 lakh for the same and had settled the bribe amount to Rs. 1.80 lakh.

Yesterday afternoon, Dinesh, citing sickness, obtained permission from his higher officer, left for his home, but came back in the evening to the Office. At about 7 pm yesterday, Dinesh was receiving Rs. 40,000 from Chethan in front of his Office, when the Lokayukta Police swooped on him and caught him red handed.

The Lokayukta Police, who interrogated Dinesh, registered a case and handed him over to judicial custody this morning.

Lokayukta Superintendent of Police T.J. Udesh guided Inspectors Ravikumar and Roopashree and staff Lokesh Raje Urs, Mohan Kumar, Dinesh, Mohan Gowda and others in the operation.

City BJP to protest against Waqf Board tomorrow: L. Nagendra

Mysuru, Nov. 21 (BLU&BS)- City BJP President and former MLA L. Nagedra said that the party has organised a protest against 'Land Jihad' being practiced by Karnataka State Waqf Board tomorrow (Nov. 22) in front of Deputy Commissioner's Office here at 10.30 am.

He was addressing media persons at a private hotel in the city this morning, during which he said that, the party has launched an exclusive 'Namma Bhoomi Namma Hakku' helpline.

The farmers who are in distress over the Waqf Board's claim over the lands belonging to farmers, mutts and temples, with the intent to usurp them, can approach the helpline — 99168-21631 or 93421-16598 or 79758-02309 or 94486-14297.

If any of such lands have been mentioned as Waqf in the Pahani (land related revenue record), the matter can be brought to our notice, which will be subsequently referred to our dedicated team, for further action in this regard, said Nagendra.

Citing instances, Nagendra said, the land bearing Survey Number-54 at Yelwal, where a school has been functioning, has been mentioned as Waqf property. Similar is the status of burial ground at Gundurao Nagar, which has been marked as that of Waqf.

Nagendra blamed Chief Minister Siddaramaiah-led Congress Government of taking such steps aimed at appeasing Muslims, eyeing the vote bank. When there is no mention of Waqf Board in the Constitution, why the Government is indulging in taking such decisions, he questioned.

BJP Minority Morcha State President Dr. Anil Thomas expressed regret that, there is no discussion yet on the report of Anwar Manippady, the former Chairman of Karnataka State Minorities Commission, on the Waqf assets.

He also alleged that, the Narasihmaraja Constituency MLA Tanveer Sait, who is associated with a Trust, usurped the assets of Waqf and is enjoying crores of rupees earned as rent from them, depriving the genuine beneficiary among the Muslims, the poor from deriving the benefit.

Mysuru, Nov. 21 (GA&BS)- Demanding exemption from professional tax, advocates staged a protest under the banner of Mysore Bar Association, in front of Mahatma Gandhi's bust, near Law Courts complex on Krisnnaraja Boulevard in the city yesterday.

The advocates boycotted Court proceedings and gathered in front of Gandhiji's bust and raised slogans. The professional tax of Rs. 2,500 earlier charged for the advocates, who have completed practicing for 10 years, is now being levied for the advocates practicing since 2 years, with the notices being served in this regard.

The advocates argued that 'We strive to provide justice to people, but what shall we do when we face injustice.'

President of Mysore Bar Association S. Lokesh, Secretary A.G Sudheer and hundreds of advocates took part in the protest.

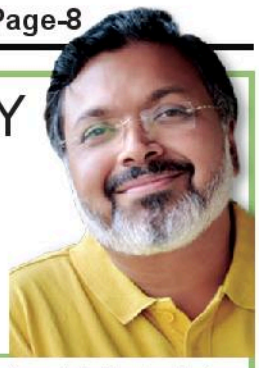
DECODING MYTHOLOGY



Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Ancient Indian Fashion Today

If you travel to Central India, the Maria tribe is famous for its bison head-dresses. It's quite a characteristic feature. The Maria tribe lives in the Maharashtra area and makes a striking image as they beat their drums. Strings of cowrie shells cover the face of the drummers.

Meanwhile, in the Gujarat-Rajasthan area, the Banjara women wear camel bones as armlets, bracelets and bangles, similar to shell bangles worn by women in Bengal. They wear the maang-tika on their head and don colourful attire.

Far to the North in Tibet, women wear the Perak. This is a leather head-dress which hangs to the back, covering the back of the neck that is covered with lapis lazuli turquoise and cowrie shells.

If you go towards the Himalayan region of Pakistan, in the Kalash region, the Chitral tribal women also have a similar head-dress. They refer to it as a Perak, mostly made of wool, it is also decorated with cowrie shells and colourful buttons made of lapis lazuli and turquoise.

These are symbols of femininity that are passed on from mother to daughter.

These three objects, one from Central India, one from Gujarat-Rajasthan region and one from the Himalayan region, seem to have no connection until we start studying images from the Harappan period. In seals, we find important beings wearing a crown, having a bison or horned head and having strange head-gear with a back which flutters behind the neck. They also have bangles on either arm. There are beaded necklaces, much like the beads worn by tribal women as well as the Mangal Sutra, which is worn in the villages across India. Village women also wear bangles. When one observes these practices, one cannot help but wonder if there is a connection between all these contemporary practices found in traditional societies and Harappan art.

Far away in Mehrgarh, there is a statue with a red line in the centre parting of the hair, which people assume could be sindoor. Cinnabar was brought into India from China via Afghanistan. In Pakistan, there is a Goddess associated with Sinbar, the Hinglaj Mata Temple. The famous "dancing girl" statue of Mohenjo-daro has bangles on her left arm and forearm which reminds us of newly married Punjabi girls wearing chuda. Women were buried with the bangles. Bangles were unique to the Indus Valley civilisation. Made of shell, terracotta and later metal, they were now made using glass and even plastic. But bangles remain integral to Indian traditional fashion.

How old is Indian fashion? It is extremely difficult to prove continuity in the realm of fashion history. But perhaps there was once a great civilisation in India 5,000 years ago, long before the Vedic people came and the people there wore costumes which now are seen in different regions of India. Long ago, they were worn together: the horn, the bangles, the head-dress. Then, these costumes went to different parts of India like pieces of a jigsaw puzzle separating themselves. United in the past, they now contribute to India's diverse present.

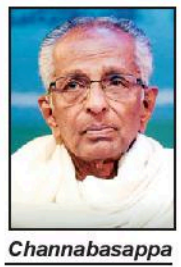
Writer Go.Ru. Channabasappa to chair All India Kannada Literary Meet

Mandya, Nov. 21 (Mohanraj &BS)- Veteran litterateur Go. Ru. Channabasappa has been unanimously selected as the President of 87th Akhila Bharata Kannada Sahitya Sammelana (All India Kannada Literary Meet) to be held here from Dec. 20 to 22.

Kannada Sahitya Parishat (KSP) President Dr. Mahesh Joshi announced the name of Channabasappa at the meeting of folk experts, scholars and writers at Kannada Sahitya Parishat Bhavan in Bengaluru on Wednesday.

Notably, Channabasappa had served as the President of KSP from 1992 - 1995, besides being the Chairman of Literary Meets held at Koppal (1993), Mandya (1994) and Mudhol (1995).



Channabasappa

The selection of Channabasappa has put an end to the speculation over a personality from non-literature background most likely to be made the President of the literary meet.

As speculations gained momentum, the litterateurs and organisers, those in favour of Joshi, themselves had taken a strong objection to the same. Moreover, Joshi himself had admitted that there was a mounting pressure on naming a person other than literary field to chair the meet that had kept the heat on for the last six months.

WORD OF THE DAY

Snivel

Pronunciation: SNIV-ul (Verb)
Meaning: To snivel is to speak or act in a whining, sniffling, tearful, or weakly emotional manner. The word snivel may also be used to mean "to run at the nose," "to snuffle," or "to cry or whine with snuffling."
Origin: There's never been anything pretty about sniveling. Snivel, which originally meant simply "to have a runny nose," has an Old English ancestor whose probable form was snyflan. Its lineage includes some other charming words of yore: an Old English word for mucus, snofl; Middle Dutch word for a head cold, snof; Old Norse word for snout, which is snoppa and nan, a Greek verb meaning "to flow." Nowadays, we mostly use snivel as we have since 1600s: when self-pitying whining is afoot, whether or not such sniveling is accompanied by unchecked nasal flow.
Example: "At first, he ran a highway stop with video gambling. 'To sit and do nothing for 10 to 12 hours drove me nuts,' he [Frank Nicolette] said. That's when he found art. 'I started making little faces, and they were selling so fast, I'll put pants and shirts on these guys,' he said, referring to his hand-carved sculptures. 'Then (people) whined and sniveled and wanted bears, and so I started carving some bears.'" — Benjamin Simon, The Post & Courier (Charleston, South Carolina), 5 Oct. 2024

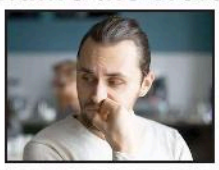
THE ODD WORD

Chionophobia

Fear of Snow.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Mum's the Word



Meaning: The phrase 'Mum's the Word' is used when you mean to keep quiet or say nothing.
Origin: The 'mum' in the expression 'Mum's the Word' is derived from the humming sound a closed mouth makes, indicating an inability or unwillingness to speak. The word 'mum' was first used by William Langland in his 1376 work Piers Plowman, and the expression itself became popular in the 16th century. You'll find it in Shakespeare's Henry VI, Part 2: "Seal up your lips and give no words but mum."
Example: "Please don't tell Mom what I'm getting her for her birthday."
Answer: "Mum's the word!"
